Your itinerary

Day 1: Travel to Seaview from previous night's accommodation.

2pm: Arrive at Seaview and check in. Welcomed by your hosts, John & Jane Noddings.

A Cream Tea with freshly baked home made scones served in the breakfast room. If you are feeling frisky after being cooped up in the car all day, then pull on your walking boots for a gentle walk up to Tor Mor to enjoy the views overlooking Iona out to the Atlantic and the Hebridean islands of Tiree, Coll, Staffa and Lunga.

7 pm: Dinner at Seaview in the dining conservatory cooked – hale and hearty home fayre cooked by Jane.

Day 2: Leisurely breakfast at Seaview. Fingal's breakfast (not for the faint hearted) or for those with a lighter appetite enjoy one of our many varied alternatives. After breakfast you will be collected by Bryan Rains and it's off on a wild life tour that has been described in the past as 'completely life changing'. Enjoy the company of the talented and affable Bryan and discover the Ross of Mull's many secret and hidden gems off the beaten track and watch those eagles soar. Packed lunches and hot drinks are provided for you by Bryan.

5 pm: Return to Seaview — time for a wee dram and to share your day with your hosts.

7 pm: Dinner at Seaview.

Warm and friendly hosts, award winning accommodation, superb scenery, wild life, beaches, walking and food

Day 3: Leisurely breakfast. Free time today — here are a couple of wee suggestions.

Take the ferry over to Iona and spend the day exploring this ancient and mystical island, home of historic Iona Abbey and the legendary monk St. Columba. Discover the white sandy beaches, Climb Dun I and soak up the magic of this very special place. If you want to spend the full day on Iona then don't forget your picnic lunch freshly prepared for you by Jane—find yourself a quiet sheltered corner on one of the beaches and just enjoy. We'll see you at Seaview for dinner at 7 pm.

Alternatively, split your day in two. Spend the morning on Iona and then take the boat trip out to Staffa (weather and sea conditions permitting) with Davey Kirkpatrick and his crew on the MV Iolaire departing from Iona around 2 pm and arriving back at Fionnphort at 5 pm. The trip to Iona and Staffa are an extra cost to you.

7 pm: Dinner at Seaview.

Day 4: Breakfast at Seaview before departing for your onward journey home or if you wish to add on an extra day to your stay we are offering a discounted rate of for a further night's B&B at the special rate of £60.00.
